

Graduate students...Are you looking for research funding?

Applications are now being accepted for the:

2010 Donald Hood Student Research Grant

Graduate students who are members of the Association for Assessment in Counseling and Education (AACCE) are encouraged to apply for the AACCE Donald Hood Student Research Grant. This annual grant program is designed to recognize and honor students who are seeking to complete research investigations that show promise for outstanding contributions to the counseling profession. The Student Research Grant provides a cash award up to $500.00, a certificate of recognition presented at the ACA Annual Conference and acknowledgement of the award in AACCE Newsnotes. Winners of the grant must prepare a manuscript for submission to Measurement and Evaluation in Counseling and Development, AACCE's journal. Winners also will be invited to join the AACCE Awards Committee the following year.

In addition to a resume', cover letter, and faculty letter of support, interested students should submit a 5-page research proposal. The proposal should be written in APA style with an abstract, introduction, design and methodology, and selected references sections. The proposal should include the following:

- a. 50-word statement indicating how the project will be helped by the grant
- b. 50-word statement discussing the significance of the project
- c. A project budget and timetable for the project's completion

The Title Page, Table of Contents, and References are not included in the page count. If additional space is required to present details of a research instrument or to elaborate on a vital point, an appendix of up to three (3) additional pages may be attached. Studies using any methodological design are encouraged. Please submit four (4) copies of all materials.

Applications must be postmarked by Friday, February 12, 2009 and addressed to:
